

NEW COLUMN!
The Art of Homemaking

Longwood
ANTIQUE WOODS

KENTUCKY'S ROLE
in the War of 1812

JUNE/JULY 2012

Kentucky Monthly

PLUS a special travel section inside!
p. 17

Rockcastle River
Trading Company:

Garden designer
JON CARLOFTIS' childhood home

TRAVEL and TRANSFORM
3 life-renewing
vacation ideas

BIG IDEAS in BG
Home makeover
with a mission

Good Shepherd FARM
Couple takes a leap of faith

MY MORNING JACKET
Rocks the Forecastle Festival

Display until 06/06/2012
$4.99

www.kentuckymonthly.com

In This Issue

Departments

- 8 Across Kentucky
- 12 Curiosities
- 14 Entertainment
- 16 Art
- 40 Travel
- 42 Cooking
- 46 120 Eats: Bell, Boone and Bourbon counties
- 64 Gardening: Makeover
- 92 People: John Robert Shaw
- 96 Field Notes
- 100 Off the Shelf
- 102 Calendar

Featured Fare

Transformations

A shifted outlook, a remodeled home, a heart's desire realized—change occurs in ways both big and small. We highlight several Kentuckians' journeys of transformation.

- 48 Good Shepherd Farm Owners Take a Leap of Faith
- 54 The Making of a Garden Master—Jon Carloffis and the Rockcastle River Trading Company
- 60 Longwood Antique Woods Showcases Kentucky's History
- 78 The Love BG Home Builds Big Ideas

Travel for an Attitude Makeover

- 66 Riverside Inn Bed & Breakfast
- 72 Edgewater Resort on Taylorsville Lake
- 76 Volunteer Vacations

Plus...

- 82 Kentributor Megan Smith Explores The Art of Homemaking
- 84 Together at Last—My Morning Jacket Headlines the Forecastle Festival
- 88 Happy Birthday—A Century of Controversy
- 94 Kentucky's Role in the War of 1812

On the Cover:
The Carloffis family's Rockcastle River
Trading Company.
PHOTO BY ABBY LAUB.

Voices

- 6 Readers Write
- 98 Past Tense/
Present Tense
- 112 Vested Interest

Growing UP

CARLOTTIS

The star garden designer's path to success started with a unique Kentucky upbringing.

TEXT AND PHOTOS BY ABBY LAUB